TRANSITION EXCITMENT!

It was an exciting day in school today as children finally had confirmation of who their teaching staff will be next academic year. In addition, children found out their class names which will all have links to World War 1 to coincide with the centenary being in November this year. We are delighted to confirm that:

Year Group	Class Name	Teaching Staff
Reception	Jack Corwell (young sailor)	Mrs Howard	Miss Day, Ms Evans, Miss Holbrook
1	Paul Nash (artist)	Miss Williams Miss Webber	Miss Bradford
2	Vera Britain (nurse)	Mrs Feist	Miss Newnham
3	Wilfred Owen (poet)	Miss White	Mrs Smith
4	Edith Cavell (nurse)	Mr Cleare	Miss McCrimmon, Mrs Perry
5	Siegfried Sassoon (poet)	Miss Richardson	Mrs Dyer, Miss Marsh, Mrs Mander
6	Lord Kitchener (senior officer)	Miss Beale	Mr Jennings

Whilst teaching support have been assigned a year group their skills can be deployed according to need.

PUPIL LEADERSHIP POSTS

There has been much excitement in school this week as children have been busy writing their applications for positions of responsibility within school. As always all posts are open to all pupils that will be in Year 5 and 6 next year. Mrs Jacobs and Miss Howarth will over see all arrangement and conduct formal interviews for applicants that reach the job specification criteria— #reallifeexperiences!

AWARDS EVENING—WHAT'S IN YOUR LETTER BOX?

Our prestigious Awards Evening will be held on THURSDAY 12th July and promises to be a fabulous celebration of success. Contrary to popular belief the awards are not just awarded to Year 6 pupils but to approximately 25% of the school population who have demonstrated excellence in an aspect of school life that has been recognized as outstanding by the school community. Invites have been sent—so watch out to see if one drops through your letter box!
